Dear Parents:

At the CCCS Grizzly Academy we want to make sure that our parents have the support and direction they need to successfully educate their children at home and to prepare them to be successful in whatever their chosen college or career might be. But we also take a firm stand upon the strong Spiritual emphasis of this school. If Christ is not central, how can we prepare our students to “shine like lights in this crooked and perverse nation?” If Christ is not central, how can our students ever realize their full potential? We are fully convinced that each of your students has a God-ordained plan and potential that, together in Christ, we can help them discover.

CCCS has always taken a firm stand on the Word and in Christ, and will continue to seek to encourage your students in that direction. That is our commitment to you. We look forward to seeing what Jesus does through you and your families in 2009/2010.

Praising Him more and more,
